Another food inspection decision made public yesterday announces that until further notice vegetables greened with copper salts, but which do not contain an excessive amount of copper and which are otherwise suitable for food, will be allowed entry into the United States, if the label bears the statement that sulphate of copper or other copper salts have been used to color the vegetables. This is another let down. Under decision No. 92 the importation of vegetagreened with copper salts was pro-ted. This question along with the other vital questions raised under the copper salts decision is signed by the ecretary of agriculture, the secretary of the treasury, and the secretary of commerce and labor, who constitute the board to which decisions of the food and drug board may be appealed.
